Dil's Grayling: Pseudochazara orestes

In 2022 Simon Spencer led a group of seven to northern Greece to search for Dil's Grayling Pseudochazara orestes but unfortunately none were found. The area where P orestes has previously been known is changing due to different grazing regimes and increased quarrying. Further surveys are now urgently needed to more clearly establish the status of this species, which is classified as Endangered in the new Red List.
